AI review volume rises and the human share falls, but human review volume does not decline